Back To School Drive

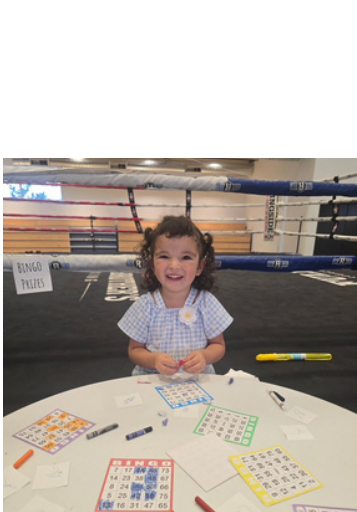

On August 14, the Fullmer Legacy Center welcomed families and community partners for our Back-to-School Night. It was a wonderful evening focused on helping our young people begin the school year feeling prepared and supported.

Thanks to the generosity of those who participated, we also collected school supplies for local students. This week, several of our Fullmer Legacy youth helped deliver those donations to Jordan Ridge Elementary. It gave them a chance to take part in serving their community and see where everyone's contributions were going.

The person behind so much of this work was our AmeriCorps member, Tatum Jensen. Tatum took the lead in planning and facilitating Back-to-School Night, managing countless details and helping bring the entire event together. Her care for our youth and our community could be felt throughout the evening.

Tatum's service shows the tremendous value AmeriCorps members bring to nonprofit organizations like ours. We are deeply thankful to AmeriCorps, the One Utah Service Fellowship, and Dr. Jennifer Seelig at Utah State University for making this opportunity possible.

Most of all, thank you, Tatum. You accomplished so much during your time with us, and your impact will continue well beyond your service. We are better because you were here.

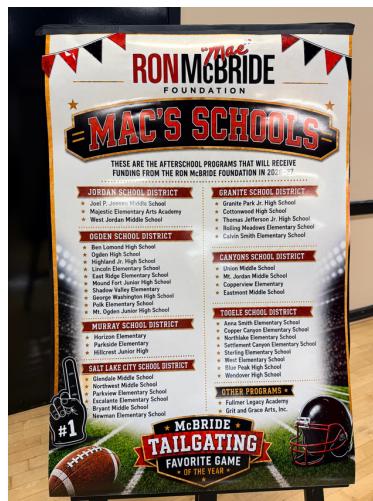

Ron McBride Foundation Teacher Appreciation Event

We are incredibly grateful to Coach Mac and the Ron McBride Foundation for once again including the Fullmer Legacy Academy among the programs receiving funding for the 2026-27 year.

We are honored to be one of Mac's Schools and thankful to have partners who believe in investing in kids, strengthening communities, and creating opportunities for the next generation.

Thank you, Coach Mac and the Ron McBride Foundation, for believing in our mission and continuing to support the work we do. We truly appreciate you!

Fights Under the Lights

We held our 2nd Annual Fights Under the Lights on August 8th. The lawn was packed, the energy was electric and the fights were fantastic. From our amazing boxers and coaches to the officials, volunteers, sponsors, and every fan who cheered from the crowd - thank you for making this event such a success. We couldn't do it without this incredible community.

Youth Sports Giving Day

Every young person who walks through our doors deserves the chance to participate, regardless of what their family can afford. Your support helps us keep that promise.

We're joining the first Utah Youth Sports Giving Day, and we'll be at the kickoff at the Salt Lake Bees game on September 12! Come visit us, learn more about our youth programs, and help us celebrate the start of this campaign. We'd love to see some familiar faces and meet a few new friends.

Your gift could go twice as far! Campaign partners have committed more than $1.5 million in matching funds, including a dollar-for-dollar match on the first $1 million raised statewide. Giving early in the campaign helps Fullmer Legacy make the most of this opportunity while matching funds remain available.

Your donation helps keep boxing and mentorship free for our young people. It supports coaches who take time with a struggling kid and a welcoming place to come after a difficult day. Your generosity makes that consistent support possible.

Please give to Fullmer Legacy Foundation during September 12–26 and help us spread the word. Forward this to a friend or share our giving page. Every introduction helps us reach someone who might care about this work as much as you do.
