Stand4Kind Visit

Stand4Kind is a program to empower educators and students. They work to teach emotional wellness, empathy, and kindness in hopes of reducing bullying and prioritizing mental health.

Through Stand4Kind, we had the opportunity to host a group of teens where they were able to connect boxing to life. They had a panel with a few of our own boxers, learned boxing techniques, and experienced what it takes to train like a boxer. It taught resilience, discipline, teamwork, and confidence.

Fullmer Brothers Boxing BBQ

It was a great time getting together as the Fullmers Brother Boxing family to watch the fights and celebrate our first year in our new facility. It gave everyone time to relax, laugh, and enjoy time together outside of training.

Boxer Highlight – Meet Owen

Owen has been boxing for 5 years. He is a three time state champion and three time regional champion. He is going to the national Golden Gloves in a few days and is hoping to bring the title back to Utah. He is working to go pro at the end of the year and wants to make a bigger name for himself outside of Utah.

“ This sport helped me a lot. It helped me with my mindset and the way I feel about my body. It helped me get more disciplined, and courage to get out there and accomplish a lot of stuff. It gave me more motivation in life.

“I was a scared to get into boxing. If someone is scared to get into it, I just tell them to get in there. Just do it. All you gotta do is take that first step to get in there. Put gloves on, look yourself in the mirror, and say ‘I got this. I can do it.’”

Redmond Minerals Scholarship

Rhett Roberts, the owner of Redmond Minerals, met with Larry Fullmer over ten years ago. Rhett was impressed with our program and thought it was amazing to see those kids working so hard. He wanted to support and now donates so we can award different recipients a scholarship each year.

These are excerpts from three of the scholarship applicants from this year.

"After my time spent here at the gym my perspective of everything about myself and life changed ... boxing truly changed my life and how I look at everything I no longer fear people's opinions or talking in front of a crowd or even the small things such as looking people in the eyes. It has shown me so much discipline whether it's to the gym or to school ... I believe I deserve this scholarship money because I believe in you give what you want back whether it's small things like helping someone at the gym or doing something for my family or even a stranger. I also believe I am a worthy candidate because I have always worked hard for what I want and I know it won't just fall onto my lap without working for it! This money will truly help me start off on both feet in my first step into my working life!"

"I'm in the Heavy Duty Ag Equipment course getting my intermediate technical certificate at College of Southern Idaho. I am in the top of my class with a 3.7 gpa, started taking early classes before graduating high school last year so I could fast track my education, graduate, and return to focusing on work and boxing ... Doing this can at times be mentally, physically, and emotionally exhausting, and makes for long days, but I get through it because I love the sport, and my team, and am passionate about the field I work in ... I would be more than grateful for a scholarship like this, it would help me a lot and relieve so much stress. This scholarship also inspires me to give back in the future and help others facing similar challenges."

"I have the hardest I can and do what I have to, to be successful. So, I believe this scholarship would be a big help to me in pursuing my dreams because it will lift off a lot of the financial stress of college so I can put more focus on getting my degree and boxing. I believe I deserve this scholarship because I don't let anything stop me from doing what I have to. I'm in the boxing gym almost every day that it's open while working 10-hour shifts and maintaining an above 3.0 GPA."

New Partnership Launch: Smart Defense at Fullmer Legacy Center

We are proud to partner with the Elizabeth Smart Foundation and the Ron McBride Foundation to bring an important new program to our community focused on youth safety, resilience, and empowerment.

On May 21st from 5:00 to 7:00 pm, the Fullmer Legacy Center will host a special presentation introducing Smart Defense, a program designed to equip youth with the tools to recognize risk, set boundaries, and respond with confidence in difficult situations. All are welcome to attend.

This work is a natural extension of what we do every day at the Fullmer Legacy Center. Through boxing, mentorship, and structured programming, we help young people build strength and confidence. This partnership expands that work by adding a critical layer of personal safety and self-advocacy.

Together, these organizations bring deep expertise and a shared commitment to supporting youth. By combining physical wellness, character development, and safety education, we are creating a more complete approach to helping young people thrive.

This event is just the beginning. There will be an opportunity for participants to register for the program, as we work toward building a sustainable offering that serves youth and families across our community.

When young people feel safe, they are free to grow, lead, and become who they are meant to be.

We hope you will join us on May 21st and be part of this important work.
